

Careers in the National Park Service Workshop

What?

This workshop is geared toward employees in the early stages of their careers who are looking to gain permanent positions with the National Park Service. However, it's open to everyone - seasonals, permanents, volunteers, interns, and anyone who might have an interest in an NPS career. We will have a short overview of USAJOBS, hiring authorities, and the hiring process, followed by a panel discussion with several NPS professionals from a variety of career fields. The workshop will conclude with a question and answer session, and time to speak with the panelists one-on-one
